BEST Reflections OF THE WEEK

Congratulations to the following students for having the Best Values Reflections of the Week. Keep it up, Kings!

"Being collaborative means I have to be open-minded and not bossy."
-Kelsea Anela Gutierrez, 2 Finland

"We must reach out to others by cheering them up and by helping. It may be hard making one but easy if you will try."
- Irish Balahadia, 2 Denmark

"By learning about people of different cultural backgrounds, I can make lots of friends around the country, and explore the world to fill my mind with wonderful things from God."
- Ezekiela Maurice de Leon, 5 Philippines

"I can show respect for other cultures by not judging them. Actually, we should respect each other so that they will respect you back. If you want to be treated nicely, you have to treat them that way, too."
- Mitchuela Malijan, 5 Philippines

"I can show respect with each other's differences by saying that our individual uniqueness is created because someone out there is capable of what I cannot do, and vice versa. We all have our ups and downs but together we must create a balanced entity because with unity comes strength, and respect creates unity."
-Nathan Benedict Sandel, 10 Peru

"I will not deprive my classmates of their freedom of speech by being open-minded because everyone has freedom to express themselves. We should learn to be respectful of others; ideas because it is true that we all have different minds."
- John Christian Iglesia, 9 Argentina

"I am opening up my eyes on the different cultural views through believing that different races of humans are not real and are only artificial boundaries created by humans because we look different. We must not forget that we, humans, are the only race of humans there is."
-Nathan Benedict Sandel, 10 Peru

"I can make the world a better place by accepting different cultural perspectives because sometimes, it's in different angles things make sense. A rectangular prism looks different at viewpoints; it may look like a square, a diamond or a prism. I think prisms are like the problems the world face, but more multifaceted and irregular in shape, some seeing it on the narrow side, thinking it small, while others see the whole breadth of the prism, spanning long and wide. Sometimes it's in these different views that we see solutions to problems we have or haven't faced."
-Kaitlyn Katigbac, 11 Egypt

INSTITUTIONAL SURVEY LEADS TO IMPROVEMENT

SSIS is a firm believer that educating a child is a collaborative effort between the home and the school. Just like parents, SSIS wants what is best for the students in terms of growing in knowledge and in values. The school values parent comments and suggestions that will improve the learning experiences of the child.

It is in our view of shared goal that SSIS is conducting the MIDYEAR INSTITUTIONAL SURVEY FOR PARENTS. Kindly accomplish the Institutional Survey form published in this bulletin (please see page 3) and return to your child's adviser on or before October 24, 2018 (Wednesday). Thank you for your usual support.
