BEST Reflections OF THE WEEK

Congratulations to the following students for having the Best Values Reflections of the Week. Keep it up, Kings!

"My main goal in life is to be an honor student so I will not have summer in school."

-Jonathan Miguel E. Serrano, 5
Philippines

"My best life goal is to change the world to be better and ignore what the surrounding thinks about me. A world without changes cannot be called a world, it can only be called dystopia, not utopia. The land of the living needs change, and that's what I want to do."

-James Gabriel R. Valencia, 6 China

"My performance today was life-changing because I stayed kind to my classmates and friends. This is important to me because it shows that I have matured and I have overcome my ADHD. Like what Martin Luther King said, "In darkness you will see stars." This means that in times of hardships, trials and sufferings, you will see success."

-Reggie Paul J. Umandal, 9 Argentina

"As a human being, I envision myself to act like one. In this world and generation, people have forgotten the true meaning of being human. Being human means you have feelings. Being human means making mistakes. Being human means being imperfect.

No one's perfect and that is what society needs to be okay with.

We may not be what everyone wants us to be and that's totally fine.

What matters is you know who you want to be and won't let anybody else tell you otherwise. You are human and you can be whatever you want to be."

-Iya Ysabel D. Tapay, 10 Peru

"People who have smart goals succeed because they are able to assess themselves to be able to think of a plan that fits their time and skill well."

-Kaitlyn Katigbac, 11 Egypt
